

Welcome to Paint Pots!

Where every child is valued and cared for

A place to belong, learn and grow

Choosing a nursery is about so much more than finding somewhere that fits around your working day.

It's about finding people you trust, somewhere your child feels comfortable, and a place where they can grow into themselves.

At Paint Pots, we create caring communities built around love, laughter and learning.

Our practitioners take time to get to know each child as an individual, helping them feel safe, valued and ready to explore the world around them.

Paint Pots is also a charitable social enterprise. Rather than profits going to individual shareholders, surpluses are reinvested into our settings, our people and the children and families we support.

What our parents say

My little one goes to the nursery and she LOVES it there.

All the staff are very welcoming and friendly. When I walk through the gates to go in the staff always ask how we are and how is my little one is doing. If you need anything the staff are happy to help.

Tamzin

I could not recommend this Nursery more!!!

My son has been going there for the past few years, and my daughter the last 6 months. Both children are developing beautifully, and Paint Pots has been a huge part of that.

Steven

This is an absolute amazing pre-school.

They have really brought my daughter out of her shell and helped in so many more ways it's unreal. Every member of staff go above and beyond to help where possible.

SV

From day one, the teachers have been incredibly kind, caring, and nurturing.

They are deeply understanding of each child's individual needs & create a warm, welcoming environment where kids feel completely safe & supported.

Delicia

We are so happy with our choice of nursery.

Our daughter is really thriving, and I can see that all the team know her and show her affection. It's a lovely environment and I see the team interacting with each other in a positive way too.

Emily

They really look after the children as if they're their own.

My daughter loves going here and even tells the staff that she loves them because they give her their undivided attention I couldn't of asked for better.

The people behind Paint Pots

Buildings and toys matter, but it's the relationships children form with their practitioners that make a nursery feel like somewhere they belong.

Our teams are there for the big milestones and the tiny ones.

They learn what makes each child laugh, what helps them settle, what captures their imagination and when they might need an extra cuddle or a little encouragement.

We also believe in investing in our people, helping practitioners continue to learn, develop and build long-term careers in early years.

Paint Pots has a family feel. They genuinely care about every child, staff member and parent. We are not just a number, we are valued!

I love the diversity of the job. No day is the same! I especially like that the company continues to improve itself to benefit everyone within it.

Settling in, together

Every child settles differently, so we take our lead from them.

Before they start, we'll get to know you, your child, their routines, interests and anything that helps them feel comfortable.

Settling-in sessions then give your child time to become familiar with the setting, their practitioners and their new surroundings without rushing the process.

Once they're with us, that relationship with you continues. We'll share how they're getting on, celebrate their progress and be there to talk whenever you need us.

Your child doesn't need to fit around Paint Pots. We get to know what works for them.

Understanding childcare funding

Paint Pots welcomes families using government-funded childcare, with funded places available for eligible children from 9 months through to 4 years.

Depending on your child's age and circumstances, different funding options may be available.

Because fees, funded hours and additional charges can vary, we've put the full breakdown on our website, along with details of our enhanced provision contributions and other ways to pay, including Tax-Free Childcare.
